

Characteristics of the Program Graduates: -

1. Integrated knowledge of the foundations, theories, and principles related to the fields of finance and investment.
2. Take initiative in identifying problems and finding solutions to them under a limited amount of guidance, using insights from the specialization.
3. The ability to use mathematical and statistical tools in analyzing, and finding practical solutions to financial and investment issues.
4. Employing modern technology efficiently in the scientific, practical, and research fields.
5. The ability to think and work creatively and prepare for teamwork.
6. Commitment to ethics and behaviors that reflect responsibility and integrity and are consistent with the social and cultural values of the community.
7. The ability to effectively exchange and express ideas and information through various communication channels

